WYBC
242-A Yale Station
New Haven, Conn.

Dear Bud:

You have undoubtedly been wondering if I would ever get around to writing, and indeed, I myself have been wondering if I would ever find the time to do so. However, I will not burden you with excuses -- only apologies.

I would like to take this opportunity to ask you to give some thought to which date would be most suitable to you for the winter meeting. It is probably slightly less crucial to you who are in New Haven and don't have to worry about travel time in addition to everything else. The meeting will be on a Saturday, as always, and presumably at the same place. I suggest it be between January 22nd and February 19th and hope you will rank these various weekends in order of preference, indicating reasons for opposition to the various possible dates.

At this year's meeting we will return to our consideration of the subject of expansion. I hope everyone will have something to say about this matter, which I feel should be resolved as soon as possible. This is, as you well know, an extremely serious question deserving of the most careful thought. I'd like to know of any thoughts you may already have had, as well, since I feel that if some exchange of views can precede the meeting, much time will be saved.

We should also be prepared to discuss the spring convention, and I am urging all stations interested in hosting it to prepare some sort of informal presentation on what might be offered. We should also select the date, so everyone should check his calendar for openings, in late April, preferably.

That about covers it for now. I hope to hear from you soon. Please convey my greetings to Ted and my wishes to all for a happy and prosperous New Year.

Cordially,

T'ing C. Pei
